Meet with an English-speaking guide in the lobby of the Hilton Sorrento Palace and depart by bus to Herculaneum. Our journey takes us along the gorgeous coastal road through Castellammare di Stabia and out along the motorway to Herculaneum. Herculaneum was destroyed along with Pompeii in 79 AD and rediscovered in 1709. It was a residential town without Pompeii's commercial importance, surrounded by the villas of the wealthy Romans. When Mount Vesuvius erupted, Herculaneum was submerged under a torrent of mud and lava that hardened into a soft tufa (a kind of course rock) that preserved many of the timber features and household objects which can be seen today. A large portion of the old Herculaneum is still buried under the modern town and, even today, excavations continue to discover what treasures lie buried under the rock, to the extent that some families are being relocated so work can continue.
